

Saturday, March 8th

9:30-10:00		Registration & Breakfast
10:00-10:15		Opening Remarks
10:15-11:45	Henry Davis University of British Columbia	What Doesn't Bend Breaks: Very Rapid Language Change and its Consequences for Language Revitalization
11:45-12:00		Break
12:00-12:30	Hassan Khan University of Toronto	English evidential adverbs in verbal complement clauses in natural speech
12:30-1:00	Kelly Kim University of Toronto	Pilot Results from the Sentence Repetition Subtest of the CATS Battery for Filipino-Americans and Filipino-Canadians
1:00-2:00		Lunch
2:00-3:30		Poster Session
3:30-3:45		Break
3:45-4:15	Indigo Zhu Barnard College	Baby Bhaashaa: Exploring the Limbu Language Scene of Taplejung in the Domain of the Household
4:15-4:45	Raimundo Cox-Casals McGill University	Not Everything is a Geminate: Linking Features to Prosody in Chilean Spanish
4:45-5:15	Irene Zhuang Western University	The Production of Syllable-Initial ng (ŋ-/ʝ-) in Toronto Heritage Cantonese
5:15-5:30		Break
5:30-6:00	Alyssa Vorobey & Cas Duarte University of Toronto	Climbing the Authenticity Ladder: Language Policing, Pejoration, and Lexical Success in Queer Social Hierarchies
6:00-6:30	Kaylee Weir & Serena Wolker University of Toronto	The Role of "Back" in Canadian-French Motion Events
8:00-10:00		Reception

Sunday, March 9th

10:30-11:00		Registration & Breakfast
11:00-11:30	Robyn Berdan Western University	How to be Sarcastic: A Guide for Robots
11:30-12:00	Cynthia Sa University of Toronto	Do self-supervised speech models acquire phoneme perception biases?
12:00-12:15		Break
12:15-12:45	Lauren Flemming University of Toronto University of Amsterdam	It's Giving Ganong: Lexicalisation of Slang Neologisms and the Ganong Effect
12:45-1:15	Natasha Vujicic University of Toronto	An Optimality Theoretic Analysis of Carpathian Rusyn Phonological Lenition: the relevance of positional faithfulness and contrast at the intersection of Optimality Theory, articulatory phonology, and psycholinguistics.
1:15-2:15		Lunch
2:15-2:45	Daiki Yoshitake Université de Liège	A Cognitive Linguistics Analysis of the Metonymy of the Verb Entendre in Old French and the Verb Kiku in Old Japanese
2:45-3:15	Emma Li University of Toronto	Norming Tagalog Speakers' Grammatical Preferences Through a Forced Image-Based Selection Task
3:15-3:45	Shelby Suhan University of Toronto	Probing expectation-based effects in Tagalog flexible word order processing with G-Maze
3:45-4:00		Break
4:00-5:00	Tahohtharátýe' (Joe Brant) University of Toronto	Normalizing "gifted oration" - Collaborative Practitioner Documentation
5:00-5:30		Tea & Bannock

Poster Session

Natasha Cyr
University of British Columbia

Clause-Typing of the Acadian French Discourse Particle "là"

Tony Juntao (Tony) Hu
University of Toronto

Aptitude effects on French pronunciation in beginner language classrooms

Carolyn Kortje
University of Toronto

The Morphophonology of Filipino Name Blends

Paige Sills
University of Toronto

How Difficult is Nasal Vowel Acquisition? An Aerodynamic study of Mandarin speakers' production of French Nasal Vowels.

Roocha Thatte
UCLA

Sarcasm and Wit: The Language of Puneri Patya

Hayden Zahary
University of Toronto

The (partial) rise and fall of amazing: sociolinguistic change in adjectives of positive evaluation in Toronto English